Terms of Service

Last updated: July 21, 2026

Please read these Terms of Service (“Terms”) carefully before using [Practice Name]’s website. By accessing or using this website, you agree to be bound by these Terms. If you do not agree, please do not use this website.

1. Use of Website

This website is intended to provide general information about our practice, services, and educational content. It is not intended to provide emergency services, medical advice, diagnosis, or treatment. Use of this website does not create a therapist-client relationship.

2. No Emergency Services

If you are experiencing a mental health emergency or believe you may be a danger to yourself or others, do not use this website or email to seek help. Call 911, go to the nearest emergency room, or contact 988 (Suicide & Crisis Lifeline) immediately.

3. No Therapeutic Relationship Until Intake Is Complete

Contacting us through this website, by email, or through a consultation request does not establish a therapist-client relationship. A formal therapeutic relationship is only established after mutual agreement, completion of intake paperwork, and confirmation of services.

4. Secure Communication

Do not send sensitive clinical, medical, or crisis-related information through website forms, regular email, or social media. For current clients, secure communication should occur through the SimplePractice client portal or other approved secure systems.

5. Intellectual Property

All content on this website, including text, graphics, logos, images, and educational materials, is the property of [Practice Name] unless otherwise noted and is protected by copyright and other intellectual property laws. You may view and share content for personal, non-commercial use only. You may not reproduce, distribute, modify, or commercially exploit content without prior written permission.

6. Third-Party Links and Services

This website may contain links to third-party websites or services, including SimplePractice, Mail Chimp, and other platforms. We are not responsible for the content, accuracy, privacy practices, or terms of those third-party sites.

7. Educational Content Only

Any articles, blog posts, downloadable materials, or resources provided on this website are for educational and informational purposes only. They are not a substitute for professional mental health care, medical care, or legal advice.

8. Disclaimer of Warranties

We make reasonable efforts to maintain accurate and current information on this website, but we do not guarantee that the website will always be available, error-free, or complete. Your use of the website is at your own risk.

9. Limitation of Liability

To the fullest extent permitted by law, [Practice Name] is not liable for any damages arising from your use of, or inability to use, this website or reliance on any information provided on the website.

10. Changes to These Terms

We may update these Terms from time to time. Changes will be posted on this page with a revised “Last updated” date. Your continued use of the website after changes are posted constitutes acceptance of those changes.
